

ERIN MCCAULEY MIES
SENIOR LIGHTING DESIGNER

YEARS OF EXPERIENCE: 14
YEARS WITH FIRM: 6

EXPERIENCE

Erin rejoined The Lighting Practice in 2025, having previously been part of the team from 2014 to 2019. She earned her degree in Architectural Engineering with a focus on lighting from Penn State University. Erin was drawn to the field of lighting for its unique blend of engineering, architecture, and design. Her background in fine arts combined with a passion for architecture and the natural world deeply informs her creative approach to lighting design.

Erin brings a broad range of experience, from serving as an in-house lighting designer at a leading Philadelphia architecture and engineering firm to working in outside sales for a lighting rep. She is both technically skilled and artistically minded, with a diverse project portfolio that includes healthcare, education, corporate, hospitality, retail, landscape, and exterior facade lighting.
